TEST DRIVES OF 2019

Dr. John Flucke, chief dental and technology editor at Dental Products Report, reviews the products that left an impression on him this year. [by Dr. John Flucke]

DR. JOHN FLUCKE

IT'S THAT TIME OF YEAR AGAIN! As Technology Evangelist and Technology Editor for Dental Products Report, I get the opportunity to see and learn about some amazing technology toys that are on the horizon of our profession.

Starting in January of each year I begin to compile a list of the latest and greatest new products I become introduced to. Then, in December I get to sit down and review the list to pick out my favorites and tell you more about them. The list is by no means all inclusive. I'm fortunate enough to see a lot of great products every year and I'm limited by column inches as to how many different products I can feature. However, rest assured that you'll continue to be seeing the most cutting-edge products I can find in the issues to come.

So now let's get started with the annual Top 5 Test Drives of the terrific year that was 2019!

SleepArchiTx

As we all have become aware in the past few years, there is a sleep epidemic in the United States. Or, to be clearer, there is an epidemic of a lack of quality sleep in the United States. About 22 million Americans suffer from Obstructive Sleep Apnea (OSA) and of those, 80 percent who are considered moderate or severe are undiagnosed.

So, if a doctor is interested in treating OSA how do they get properly trained and up to speed with helping their patients? That is where SleepArchiTx comes in.

The company offers a turnkey solution for doctors that provides marketing and training on sleep studies, diagnosis, treatment, and medical billing. They also have certified sleep physicians and dentists well versed in oral appliance therapy to provide training and coaching for every step of the clinical process.

Whether you are just getting into treating sleep disorders or have been doing some cases but simply want to do more cases and do them better, SleepArchiTx can provide what you are looking for.
